

SUMMER IS THE BEST TIME TO HAVE YOUR GAS LOG FIRES SERVICED

Most of us are just kicking back and enjoying the arrival of some warm summer weather, and gas log fires are probably the last things you're thinking about. But, there really is no better time to book in to have your fireplace serviced than when it isn't needed to warm your property. So now the end of year festivities are over, it's time to tick 'gas log fires servicing' off your Annual Home Maintenance List.

Think of 2016 - Melbourne's weather constantly surprised us with its almost endless cold, rainy days up until the last weeks in December. And, your Gas Log Fires probably have been busily heating the living areas of your home until just before Christmas. Day in, day out, there was an almost constant flow of gas coming into your fireplace, being transformed into the luxurious heat you'd expect, and wastes being exported away from your home.

So, maybe it's not surprising that most manufacturers recommend gas log fires have an annual service, or every two years at the very minimum. Remember, all servicing should be carried out by fully trained professionals, and if you choose to carry out your own fireplace servicing you might risk voiding its warranty, please contact us for more information.

Gas Log Fires are one of the most energy efficient, safe burning, and environmentally friendly modes of heating anyone could have installed. However, it still takes just a bit of care and maintenance from one of our professional service and repair technicians to keep gas fireplaces burning as efficiently and safely for as long as they should.
